

FACING CHANGE SUMMIT

JULY 22ND 9AM-4PM
CANNON CAUCUS ROOM,
CAPITOL HILL

Are you a college student who is committed to social change? Have you come to DC as an intern to learn how to have an impact on the world?
Join Hillel: The Foundation for Jewish Campus Life, Ashoka U and the Interfaith Youth Core for a one day Change Summit on Capitol Hill devoted to collective dialogue and social change.

TAKE ACTION: BE THE CHANGE THAT IS NEEDED

We live in a world of increasing discord along political, social, religious, and ethnic lines. College campuses have been divided, erupting around issues from the Israel/Palestine conflict to immigration. Students have been left without tools to talk openly about difficult topics and to work together for social change.
The Change Summit will feature speakers, practitioners, and experts from across the globe who specialize in civil discourse and social change. The Summit will focus on inspiring and mobilizing you, as student leaders of your generation, and equip you with methodologies you can use, to return to campus as true change-makers committed to engaging your peers in initiatives designed to foster collective dialogue and civic engagement.
